Boys Charged With Trespass.
Last evening Thomas Manion, William Hercules and Michael Hoe, three boys from fourteen to sixteen years of age, were up before Squire Gillespie, charged by Albert Rose with trespass and destroying property. The cases against Hercules and Hoe were dismissed after a hearing, while that against Manion was continued until this evening.

Gillespie Pleads Not Guilty.
James Gillespie, the pugilist who whipped Mike Howley at Rainey's coal works last April, and was recently indicted by the Belmont county grand jury for the felony of prize fighting, was arraigned in the court at St. Clairsville yesterday and pleaded not guilty. As he had no counsel and said he was not able to employ a lawyer, T. C. Ayers was assigned by the court to defend him.

A Home for the A. O. U. W.
The building committee of the A. O. U. W. met at Welcome lodge room last evening and organized by electing J. S. Trimble chairman and A. B. Butler secretary. It is the desire of the different A. O. U. W. lodges to secure a permanent home of their own, and as a preliminary step a committee composed of Messrs. W. O. McCluskey, Richard Robertson and S. G. Smith was appointed to investigate and report at the next meeting, which will be held Saturday evening, November 4, at 7:30 o'clock, in Welcome lodge room.

A Novel Situation.
The U. P. church in this city, says the Bellare Independent, is being papered by workmen from Wheeling. The building was recently painted by a man who is not a member of the painters' union, though the fact was not known to the trustees of the church when the contract was let. The painters ordered the paper hangers of the Bellare union to refuse to put on the paper, serving a written notice on the trustees. Wheeling men were then employed. They commenced work this morning. A committee of the painters waited on them and requested them to quit, but they said they would when they finished. There is perhaps as much as $30 in the job of hanging.

CRANKS IN TOWN.
"Harmless Lunatics" Roam the Streets of Wheeling at Will.

"Speaking of cranks," said a prominent citizen to an Intelligencer reporter, "there are many in this town who ought to be caged. There is that man who roams the streets with brass buttons and medals. He is supposed to be harmless, but in his very harmlessness he is to be avoided."

"Is the mayor in danger?" asked the inquirer of the press.
"Oh, no; not in this city, because it is not large enough, and any crank who could shoot would not have half the chance he did in Chicago."

After a pause the gentleman interviewed referred the reporter to Mayor Caldwell, who said: "I have not received a threatening letter yet, but that is not saying that a crank may not have access to me at any time. I know there are a lot of cranks at liberty, but how can you suppress them unless they are sent to the proper asylum?"

THE LIVING PICTURES
Which the Ladies of St. Matthew's Church Are to Produce.
All of the pictures from the World's Fair art exhibit have been selected and decided upon by the ladies' committee of the St. Matthew's church. At a meeting held yesterday afternoon, presided over by Mrs. Gibson Lamb, in the parlors of Rev. Dr. R. R. Swope's residence, the final decision was made.

The pictures, which will be reproduced by living characters at the Opera House, November 7, embrace twelve of the finest subjects in the art gallery. Each production will be portrayed as nearly in the original colors and posing as possible. A number of rehearsals have already been held, and they promise the most satisfactory results in the novel entertainment. Tickets have already been placed on sale by the committee and at Noble Bros' store, on Twelfth street.

Loss of Sleep
Makes people nervous and irritable and occasions a great deal of complaint on their part, but why should anybody complain about losing sleep last night on account of that hacking cough when Cough Cure will relieve it in sixty seconds. It is not a cure for consumption but affords relief and will prevent it.

Sold by Alex. T. Young, John Klari, Wheeling, and Bowie & Co., Bridgeport, Ohio.

An Old Soldier Made Happy.
"During my term of service in the army I contracted chronic diarrhoea," says A. E. Bending, of Halsey, Oregon. "Since then I have used a great amount of medicine, but when I found any that would give me relief they would injure my stomach, until Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was brought to my notice. I used it and will say it is the only remedy that gave me permanent relief and no bad results follow." For sale by Charles R. Goetze, Will W. Irwin, Chris. F. Schnepf, Chas. Menkemeller, Wm. E. Williams, S. L. Brice, A. E. Scheele, Will Menkemeller, John Coleman, Richards & McElroy, Wheeling; Bowie & Co., Bridgeport, and B. F. Peabody & Son, Benwood.

WHEELING'S SLUMS.

A Place that Should be Cleaned out by the Authorities.

A DILAPIDATED DIVE IS VISITED

By the Chief of Police and a Squad of Officers, and Chief McNichol says he will Take City Health Officer McCoy up to See the Place and Try to Find a Remedy for a Bad State of Affairs.

Every once in a while the dilapidated old barracks of a house in the rear of the Italian saloon, on Market street north of Tenth, figures in police reports. The house looks as if it would fall down on the slightest provocation. In fact, it is falling down "on the installment plan." Plaster has crumbled from the walls and ceilings, the stone lintels outside are cracked and pushed out of position, and the whole place seems on the verge of collapse. Beneath the loose and warped floors slimy water has gathered in nasty pools, and the house, inside and out, is encrusted with the dirt of a generation, and sends out foul odors which can be smelled on the street.

In spite of this state of affairs, more people live in the place than in any similar number of rooms in the city. The rooms are nearly all tenanted singly, most of them most of the time by fallen women of the lowest class, and black and white live on a perfect equality.

Last evening Chief of Police McNichol and several officers of that beat visited the house to look into the case of Pearl Carr, who was recently married to an Italian named Joe, with whom she had lived a long time before the ceremony. She was reported to be sick and it was said her husband would not call in a doctor. She was found in bed, working in a fit, and with two men holding her.

When the chief asked why no doctor had been summoned, Joe said: "She not sick; beer, whisky, whisky, beer, all-time. She all right."

Another woman who has figured often in police court was also found sick in bed. A boy was with her, and a man well known to the officers was in the room. The chief said, "I thought I told you to stay away from this woman."

"Yes," said the man, "but she was sick and sent for me, and I had to come." This woman, like the other, had no doctor.

One miserable room in the house is rented to a woman for $1.50 a month. Nearly all the plaster is off the walls. In one room eight or nine Italians were gathered around an open fire, frying sausages, while in an adjoining room another man was filling a lunch bucket with bread and sausage, getting ready for an early start for work this morning.

The Italian saloon keeper professes to be anxious to get rid of this colony, but it is said by people who ought to know that he rents the house entire and sublets the rooms to these tenants. There ought to be some way to clean out the whole "bag of tricks," and Chief McNichol says he will ask the health officer to accompany him there for an inspection and see if between them they cannot devise a remedy for what everybody considers the worst evil in Wheeling.

A man living near the place has tried for some time past to buy the house, desiring to tear it down and put up in its place a decent block, but the owners will not entertain a proposition to sell at a fair figure.

That Joyful Feeling
With the exhilarating sense of renewed health and strength and internal cleanliness, which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to the few who have not progressed beyond the old-time medicines and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered, but never accepted by the well informed.
